Preface.

THIS system of Classification has been compiled in response to a demand from many librarians in the United Kingdom for a greatly extended version of the Adjustable Classification, which was published in 1898. That system was not fully indexed, and its main classes and divisions are only worked out in detail here and there, to suit the needs of the smaller British municipal libraries. There was, in consequence, plenty of room for a much more elaborate and complete scheme, suited to the requirements of British libraries of all kinds and sizes, and this system of Subject Classification is the result. Its plan and method of application are set out so fully in the Introduction, that there is no need to explain here the principles of its construction or aim. The attempt to supply a complete classification of literature for libraries and general educational purposes could be justified on many grounds, but it will be sufficient to claim that a simple, fairly logical and practical method has long been wanted in British libraries.

My best thanks are due to various librarians, and others, who have aided me with suggestions and plied me with unstinted criticism. Without such help the work would be much more incomplete than it is, and I have, therefore, to express my gratitude for the stimulus and aid afforded in so many ways by numerous specialists in different departments of knowledge. In particular I owe very warm thanks to Mr. James D. Stewart, of the Islington Public Libraries, who aided in the laborious work of indexing the scheme, and by his practical acquaintance with other systems, and the work of applying strict classification to books, greatly lessened the drudgery of compilation. I am also indebted to Miss Alice Jones, of the Islington Public Libraries, for carefully reading the proofs. Notifications of errors and omissions will be thankfully received and acknowledged.

This second edition contains corrections of errors found in the original issue, and a few suggestions which have been made from time to time. The scheme has been received with more favour than its author expected, and more than a score of British libraries have adopted it in practice. Some friendly criticism has been passed, but nothing of a very serious nature. The separation of the Arts and Sciences is still upheld by some of the critics, but as time goes on and it is found that theory and application are now being taught together, instead of being treated as different things, this kind of objection will gradually die out. Only one critic has objected to the categorical numbers, and several writers have pleaded the cause of a "relative" index, that is an index cluttered up with standpoints of every kind and form. This is an apparatus for cataloguing, not for classifying books, and it may be mentioned that every published index on this principle has been found imperfect, selective and confusing. These and some minor matters have been criticised, but, on the whole, very little of a destructive nature has appeared.

It has been tested in a number of libraries, and has been found most efficient and comprehensible by the general run of readers and the staffs of public libraries. All the alterations originally published in the Library World, 1909, have been carried into this edition, and the errors which have been noticed by different users have been corrected. Plenty of margin is allowed all through the scheme for differences of opinion as to the correct places of certain subjects, and no attempt is made, as in other schemes, to fetter the judgment of the users. After all, a classification scheme is just as susceptible of different interpretations as a piece of music, and it is hopeless for any one to try and force one hard and fast reading on all others. Perhaps it will be possible in the future to prepare an edition of this classification fitted with examples, and aids to interpretation, which will facilitate and simplify its application.

NOTE.—The revision of this work for the present edition was completed by Mr. Brown shortly before his death. The task of seeing the volume through the press, therefore, has been comparatively easy, and the Publishers have taken every care to ensure accuracy. Miss Alice Jones has again been responsible for reading the proofs, and to her thanks are due.

Communications regarding the Classification and its use should be addressed to me, c/o the Publishers.

Introduction.

1. Some observations on the theory of Classification are perhaps necessary, before entering upon a detailed explanation of the method of applying this scheme to books or libraries.

For many hundreds of years it has been a pet exercise of philosophers and logicians to arrange the varied constituents of human knowledge according to some well-ordered plan, which would assemble in one place, and in immediate proximity to kindred topics, all the books or facts relating to a specific subject. Most of these plans have been discussed at great length; some have been approved with reservations, and others condemned outright without reservation. Some of them are the work of great thinkers, and others the experiments of practical men of affairs, in quest of labour-saving devices to facilitate business. No single system of classification succeeds in just exactly suiting its user, or satisfying the demands of other classifiers, from which it may be judged that the whole subject is one of immense difficulty and complexity. To begin with, very few men of science or philosophical theorists can agree as to the exact order of progression to be observed in the arrangement of the main divisions of human knowledge. Each, according to his training or prepossessions, will seek to place his own pet subject of study in the forefront of the sequence, and let all subjects of less personal interest tail off into an indefinite perspective of diminishing value. Thus, the physical science specialist will argue that force and radiation are the genesis of all actions, thoughts or accomplishments, and will therefore plan his scheme of classification to show Physics occupying a leading or central position, from which will be dominated every other science or study. On the other hand, the historical classifier will show in his scheme that the physical sciences are a mere incident in the progress of the world from prehistoric to present times, and promptly relegate them to one of the many annexes of General History, as a useful but by no means indispensable collateral study. The metaphysician will claim pride of place for his special study, on the ground that Ideas precede either matter or record, and will then spread out the foundations of knowledge according to a radically different conception of their relative values and kinds. The sociologist will tell you that nothing in the whole course of human endeavour possessed the slightest significance till mankind became formed into society, with groups capable of discussing all kinds of phenomena, and so he will make every other subject a minor detail in the predominating sociological structure. But the jurist will tell you that such an order is erroneous, as nothing could be discussed, or even formulated, till the establishment of Law in all its varied intricacies. To this the theologian will retort that only Divine Law can be recognised as the foundation of human knowledge, and proceed to show that science, history, law, and art are but different manifestations of religious belief.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION.

The mathematician will tell you that everything in existence is but an expression of Number; while the logician will claim that only reason and system can be properly taken as a basis for classification. As for the chemist —! Finally, the anthropologist will come along and sweep every one of the preceding claimants, and all others, into his capacious net, and calmly assert that his study is Man in all his aspects, and that every human science is, therefore, but a branch of Ethnology.

2. The result of these many claims to sovereignty, preferred on behalf of such a number of important sciences, is that Classification has become a mere battlefield for theorists, from which nothing of a very definite or permanent kind has emerged. Systems of classification to suit every theory have been devised, and, in addition, schemes have been prepared in which attempts have been made to meet the needs of every specialist, by endeavouring to gather at one place everything relating to his special subject. The result is that the special schemes based on particular theories, or which treat some select science as paramount, fail because of their limitations outside the favoured field; while the universal schemes, which try to specialize for everybody, fail because they are swollen by endless and needless repetitions, and then do not meet the minor needs of the specialist.

It is inevitable that these failures should result from any attempt to classify human knowledge from particular standpoints. The departments of human knowledge are so numerous, their intersections so great, their changes so frequent, and their variety so confusing, that it is impossible to show that they proceed from one source or germ, or that they can be arranged so that each enquirer will find the complete literature of his special subject at one fixed place. Subjects overlap and qualify each other in every conceivable manner, and they are further complicated by considerations of literary form and the points of view from which they may be studied. Every subject is capable of being treated from a large number of standpoints, and each of these may be the centre of an enormous literature, and form an important study. To illustrate this, I shall assume that there are some thousands of books existing, which have for their theme the Rose in every conceivable aspect. This subject may be considered from any of the following standpoints:—

Biological, Botanical, Horticultural, Historical, Geographical, Ethical, Decorative, Legal, Emblematical, Bibliographical, Poetical, Musical, Sociological, and so on, to any extent.

Works about the Rose may assume the form of Dictionaries, Periodicals, Societies, Catalogues, and so forth; while it may also be considered in reference to Costume, Perfumery, Therapeutics, and similar subjects. Now, it is quite evident that, while there would be enormous practical convenience to the Rose student in having all his material gathered together at one place, so that the literature of the subject would appear in a sequence of forms, categories and standpoints, the same advantage would not be gained by the perfumer, gardener, botanist or bibliographer, who wanted to find all his material assembled at one place. The problem to be solved becomes, therefore—Is it better to assemble at a specific place, or at a more general place, the literature of a concrete subject? To show it more graphically, let me take the case of a work entitled Bibliography of the Rose and show the aspect of the problem when displayed in tabular form under general and more local heads :—

INTRODUCTION.

GENERAL SYSTEM.		LOCAL SYSTEM.
M760	Bibliography, General.	E600	Rose, General
M760.2	— Encyclopædias	E600.1	— Bibliography
M760.7	— Periodicals	E600.2	— Encyclopædias
M760.10	— Historics	E600.7	— Periodicals
	Special subjects—	E600.10	— History
M760.183	Architecture
M760.371	Biology
M760.441	Botany
M760E570	Rosales
M760E600	Rose

It certainly appears that the balance of advantage lies with the assignment of the subject to a local head in this particular instance, but it would, in the case of a collection of books, deprive the bibliographer of part of his material. On the other hand, it must be argued that if the bibliographer is able to have all the general and abstract bibliographical works gathered at one place, it will just be as convenient for him to go elsewhere for the special literature of subjects not of themselves bibliographical. It is further to be considered to whom such a book as The Bibliography of the Rose would most appeal, and here there can be no disputing the fact that the rose lover would be in an enormous majority. For this reason, and it has a wide general application, I incline to think that, in book classification, the constant or concrete subject should be preferred to the more general standpoint or occasional subject. The topic Rose is concrete; that of Bibliography is standpoint, and should remain subordinate whenever possible in Classification. But this does not prevent anyone who prefers to use a general head from doing so, as it is only necessary in such a case to apply the general number and qualify or subdivide by the categorical tables, or by combining specific numbers from the classification tables.

3. Constant Place.—In assigning places for a large number of books or topics, there is often a choice offered between two or more enquirers or specialists, and it lies with the classifier to decide which of these has the strongest claim. In general libraries the difficulty can be overcome in many cases by determining how far the subject has constant or only occasional interest for the enquirer. In the case of a book entitled British Library Law, the question would arise as to whom such a work would be most constantly useful. As the librarian is daily engaged in applying the law which regulates his work and defines some of his powers, it is perfectly clear that to him, rather than to a lawyer, the book is constantly useful. A lawyer may never have occasion to refer to Library Law in the whole course of his professional career, or may only do so on a few special occasions, consequently the librarian must, in this case, have the preference. (Again, a book entitled Library Architecture is exactly in the same position. It may never be required by an architect, but is almost inevitably required for constant reference by a librarian, and its place is, therefore, with other books on librarianship. Buildings are designed to meet certain requirements and to perform certain work. An architect simply follows out certain instructions and carries out merely temporary duties in devising a building according to certain recognised principles of construction. He does not originate the purpose or main arrangements of the building, nor has he to work it as a machine afterwards. All this is done by a different kind of specialist, who only employs the architect as an occasional aid. Such special works as books on the architecture of libraries, churches, slaughter-houses, barracks, hospitals, baths, etc., have, therefore, no special right to be arbitrarily placed under the general class of architecture, but should be put with their actual subjects, where they would be in comparatively constant demand, and close to all relative aspects of this topic.) These are strong reasons why, in general libraries, only general and intimately germane subjects should be made the essential divisions of a main class. Subjects which are not general, but feed a more constant demand, should appear as divisions or subdivisions, or categories of the classes to which they are constantly germane. It would be possible to give many other examples to prove the utility of this rule of preferring a constant to an occasional standpoint for classifying, but it is hardly necessary, as no one can doubt its immense value in the classification of general libraries. With special collections it would, in some cases, be difficult, as in such libraries the necessity for specialisation is more urgent, and many instances will occur of books offering a choice of subjects which may seem of equal rather than of constant or occasional importance. In such cases the classifier must consider the special needs of his collection, and assign places accordingly.

4. Classification versus Cataloguing.—One of the principal causes of confusion in the classification of knowledge, as contained in books, is the failure to distinguish between classification and cataloguing. Classification may be defined as the art of placing one copy of a book in that part of a library where all similar books on the same subject are kept. It is physically impossible to make the same copy of one book act as a cross-reference from a standpoint to a concrete subject, or vice versa, because it can only occupy one place at a time, and no one would dream of using ten, twenty or one hundred copies of the same book in order to place one at every subsidiary subject of which it treated. The problem of classification is thus complicated by the physical necessity, imposed by the form of books, of choosing only one place in which to class a given book; and, naturally, it is to be supposed that the place chosen will be the most useful, or one most likely to be resorted to by the largest number of enquirers. With cataloguing there is no such physical difficulty. The entry of a book can be multiplied to almost any extent; a book can be shown under every imaginable subject; cross-references of all kinds can be easily made; and no question can arise of increasing the number of books or the size of the library. It is largely due to a misunderstanding of the fact that a catalogue is to a great extent but an index to a scheme of classification, that so many persons obtain the idea that books in an actual arrangement on the shelves should appear at every possible class, phase, form or subdivision. It is very important that this fact should be borne in mind in every question relating to exact classification, because no scheme, however detailed, can be made to serve the purpose of a catalogue in all that relates to repeated entries, cross-references, and the assembling at various heads of the whole literature of a topic, whether contained in special or in composite and encyclopædic works.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION.

5. General Principles.—Like every other system of exact classification, this one is arranged, as regards its main divisions, in a logical order, or at any rate, according to a progression for which reasons, weak or strong, can be advanced. Its basis is a recognition of the fact that every science and art springs from some definite source, and need not, therefore, be arbitrarily grouped in alphabetical, chronological or purely artificial divisions, because tradition or custom has apparently sanctioned such a usage. The divisions seen in most classifications in vogue—Fine Arts, Useful Arts and Science, are examples of the arbitrary separation of closely related subjects, which in the past have become conventional, and it may seem heretical even at this late time to propose a more intimate union between exact and applied science. Nevertheless, this is what has been attempted here, and those who use the scheme will find many departures from established convention which may at first sight appear a little drastic. The alliance of Architecture and Building, Acoustics and Music, Physical Electricity and Electrical Engineering, and other groupings of a similar kind are departures from the convention that there exists a clear difference between theory and practice, pure and applied science, and so on, which renders their amalgamation undesirable. The old distinction between theoretical and applied science is gradually disappearing from all modern text-books, and it is obvious that, as the systematisation of science and its teaching improve, the separation between physical basis and practical application, hitherto maintained, will no longer be insisted upon. In this scheme of Subject Classification every class is arranged in a systematic order of scientific progression, as far as it seemed possible to maintain it; while applications directly derived from a science or other theoretical base, have been placed with that science or base. Composite applications of theory have been placed with the nearest related group which would take them without strain, and, as a general rule, all through the classification the endeavour has been to maintain a scheme of one subject, one place.

6. The Order of the Main Classes.—The reasons which determined the adoption of a certain sequence of classes in this system may be briefly set forth here, instead of any argument or attempt to justify the order. The battle which has raged, and is still raging, among scientists, as to the best and most desirable order in which to arrange the great branches of human knowledge in order to produce a "hierarchy," must deter a non-scientific classifier from arguing on such a complicated and difficult topic. It will, therefore, suffice, if I briefly describe the main classes in their order and give reasons why they were assigned to the places they occupy.

A. GENERALIA.—The divisions of this main class comprise most of the rules, methods and factors which are of general application, and which qualify or pervade every branch of science, industry or human study. They are universal and pervasive, and cannot be logically assigned to any other single main class as peculiar or germane to it.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION.

- B-C-D PHYSICAL SCIENCES.—Matter, force, motion and their applications are assumed to precede life and mind, and for that reason the material side of science, with its applications, has been selected as a foundation main class on which to construct the system.
- E-F BIOLOGICAL SCIENCE.—Life and its forms, arising out of matter, occupy the second place among the main classes, and here are put general biological theories and facts, followed by plant and animal life, each in an ascending order from low to high forms of organization.
- G-H ETHNOLOGICAL AND MEDICAL SCIENCE.—Human life, its varieties, physical history, disorders and recreations, follows naturally as a higher development of plant and animal life, and completes the biological chain.
- I ECONOMIC BIOLOGY AND DOMESTIC ARTS.—The applications of plant and animal life to human needs are placed midway between the physical and mental attributes of man as indicating the primitive exercise of mind, and to assemble in one sequence the chief biological subjects. As a matter of practical convenience, rather than logical necessity, it was thought better to keep composite subjects like Agriculture, Clothing, Foods, etc.—involving questions of origin, use and manufacture—all in one place, close to the main classes from which they are derived, rather than to distribute them more closely at Botany or Zoology.
- J-K PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION.—Mental attributes, order and beliefs of human life, following naturally from its physical basis, and primitive manifestation in the instinct of procuring food and clothing.
- L SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.—Social order and laws of human life. Placed here because, although society or family and other tribal organizations may have preceded religion, mind, as embodied in philosophy, must have preceded both.
- M LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.—Communication and recording in human life. The spoken, written and printed word, which grew as a necessity out of the primitive operations of mind. It was not possible to find room for the pictorial side of things here, hence its transference to Generalia.
- N LITERARY FORMS.—The products of communication and recording in human life in their more imaginative forms; placed here on the ground that fable probably preceded more formal history.
- O-X HISTORY, GEOGRAPHY, BIOGRAPHY.—The actions, records and description of human life and its dwelling place. Arranged in this order and at this place because of their intimate connection. Geography, although logically related to Physiography, and Biography to Ethnology, are, nevertheless, as a matter of practical utility, and because of the literature actually existing, more naturally grouped here than separated.

INTRODUCTION.

The order of the classes may, therefore, be briefly described as expressing :—

1. Matter.
2. Life.
3. Mind.
4. Record.

7. The Notation.—After many attempts to secure extreme simplicity in the Notation to be used for the purpose of briefly indicating subjects and groups of subjects, it was found that very short numbers or symbols were impossible in cases of complex topics. As regards the numbering of books, for example, there are many cases in which it is necessary not only to distinguish between a main class and its divisions and subdivisions, but also to indicate locality, form, differences of authorship, of title, of work and even of edition and copy of work. For these reasons it was thought desirable to construct the Notation on the widest possible base, assigning letters of the alphabet to the main classes in convenient groups, and giving numbers to every subject which was thought to possess a large literature. Thus, instead of crowding the Physical Sciences at one letter like B, they have been much more conveniently spread over B, C, D, with the result that important subjects like Railways and Shipbuilding are not mingled together at one number which must be especially subdivided, but have seventy numbers allotted to them, and each number can be subdivided to any required degree by means of a separate table of forms and categories. Thus is produced a sequence of main classes, divisions and subdivisions, which are differentiated as far as possible by means of letters, figures, indentations, and varieties of type. The advantage of this plan may be shown by an example from the tables :—

U900	London
U901	North of the Thames
U902	West London
U903	Hammersmith
U908	Westminster
U911	Westminster Abbey

Here is clearly shown London in bold type ; then the whole Metropolitan area north of the Thames as a division ; then the area known for administrative purposes as West London ; next the separate boroughs in West London ; and finally, an important historical subject in the city of Westminster as subdivisions. Each of those topics is expressed by a simple symbol, consisting of a letter and three figures, and again each of the subjects can be subdivided by means of the form and categorical tables, without in any way interfering with the numbers of the main tables. All numbers which express classes, divisions or subdivisions are, therefore, the same, the only difference being that subordinate topics or subdivisions are shown by means of indentations. It is thus easy to take any number, whether it represents a subdivision or main division of a topic, and qualify it by various methods.

8. National Numbers.—In using national symbols to qualify a topic, it is necessary only to use the class letter and first figure of the place, and to add to the topic number in order to show subject and locality. Thus,

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION.

a general work on Freemasonry in Russia would be marked L185S0, instead of L185-S000 or L185.S000. There is no need to divide the topic from the place number by means of dots or dashes, and all through it must be understood that the principal countries are to be expressed by letter and first figure of number only, as shown on the Summary Tables. In the case of extremely minute subdivision it may be necessary to closely localize a topic, say such as Freemasonry in Texas, in which case the number, for clearness, should be L185W328, and not L185W1, which would express the United States and not Texas. None of the National or Race names appear in the Categorical Tables, and it is, therefore, necessary to take them from the full Classification Tables. It is sometimes necessary to qualify a topic by a race or language number instead of a national one, and it is then best to use the whole of the language mark, thus :—

Pali Freemasonry L185M260.

Such subdivisions are, however, rarely required, and it is best under every circumstance to use the geographical rather than the linguistic national numbers.

9. New or Intercalated Numbers.—If any new or other subject is found unrepresented in the tables, either as a general covering head, or special topic, a place for it can be made at any point by treating the existing numbers as decimals, and adding the units from 0 to 9 as found necessary. Thus, suppose places are specially wanted for bodies named Chrīstadelphians, Christian Strugglers, Christian Travellers, Christian Worshippers, and it is necessary to insert them between K951 and K952, they can be added thus :—

K951	Catholic Apostolic Church
K9510	Christadelphians
K9511	Christian Strugglers
K9512	Christian Travellers
K9513	Christian Worshippers
K952	Christian Endeavour Society.

Or, if other intercalations are probable, the odd numbers should be used, so as to still leave room on each side of numbers :—

K951	Catholic Apostolic Church
9510	Blank
K9511	Christadelphians
9512	Blank
K9513	Christian Strugglers
9514	Blank
	etc.

By this means ten entirely new places can be found between every existing number, apart from the large number of spaces already purposely left blank all through the classification. Of these there are about 10,000, making with the 14,000 extra places now provided, a total of 24,000. But there is no reason apart from a long symbol, why five figures should not be used in the main number, if thought desirable, or why, indeed, the additions to the decimal main numbers should not run on to 100 or even 1000 places. But it seems extremely unlikely that, even in the very largest universal library, such a profuse numbering power would ever be required. But if so, the numbers would assume the following proportions :—

INTRODUCTION.

TWO FIGURE ADDITIONS.

K951
K95100
K95101
K95102
K952
K95200
K95299

K951
K951000
K951001
K951002
K952
K952000

In all cases added figures must be used without the decimal point [K95100], as the point is used for distinguishing the categorical numbers. An interleaved copy of the classification is necessary in cases where additions are made, as new subjects should be written both in the Tables and Index.

10. Subjects which are not provided with a special number can either be placed under the nearest general head which will contain them, or they can have new places assigned by means of the intercalated numbers, as shown above.—It is, of course, absolutely impossible to make places for every subject which has existed, or still exists, to originate books, and it follows that some kind of inclusive head must be used instead. For example, take a French department, an English county, or a Russian government from the tables, and it will be found that hundreds of places are omitted. Numbers have only been given to capitals, county towns, cathedral cities, and in the United Kingdom to county and municipal boroughs, and in Scotland to Royal burghs. Beyond these there are numerous towns, districts, parishes, villages and other areas of historical interest, which could not receive numbers without swelling the tables and index to an enormous extent. So it is with every science, art or department; many minor subdivisions have been omitted. Take the case of U760 Hertfordshire, for example. Places are found for the county, the county town, Hemel Hempstead, and the cathedral town of St. Albans. But Bishop's Stortford, Hatfield, Ware, Hitchin, Watford, Hoddesdon, Knebworth, Rickmansworth, Berkhamstead, Stevenage, Cheshunt, and many other places are omitted, notwithstanding the literature which exists about some of them. What must be done in cases like this is to number the book with the county number, and distinguish it from the general county books by adding the mark .02, to indicate that it is subject to re-arrangement. • Hatfield thus becomes U760.02. Another plan is to interpolate fresh numbers, as shown in Section 47, in which case Hatfield might be U7625. As regards very large local collections, it is best to use the marks provided in Section 47. All other classes must be treated in a similar manner.

11. The Categorical Table.—In the absence of a more expressive portmanteau word, "categorical" is used to denote a table of forms, phases, standpoints, qualifications, etc., which apply more or less to every subject or subdivision of a subject. It was thought unwise to load the Classification Tables themselves with repetitions of such categories, or to provide numbers for the same forms and phases over and over again in a manner like the following :—

U900	London
U901	—	Societies
U902	—	Periodicals
U903	—	Bibliography
U904	London, North of Thames
U905	—	Societies
U906	—	Periodicals
U907	—	Bibliography
U908	—	History

and so on.

The effect of this would have been to extend the tables to at least one million places, without any advantage. It was therefore determined to relegate the whole of those form and other qualifications to a separate table, and to use its numbers for the subdivision of any topic as required. A complete list of such qualifying factors was therefore drawn up and separately indexed, and each category or subdivisional word was numbered after a point, so that a distinction should be made between any main number, original or additional, and the number which qualified it. Thus London in General, as a subject, preserves its own letter and number—U900, and it is subdivided by means of the categorical numbers in this manner :—

U900	London, General	"
U900.1	—	Bibliography
U900.2	—	Dictionaries
U900.6	—	Societies
U900.7	—	Periodicals
U900.8	—	Collections
U900.10	—	History

Applied to a subject like Botany, the following subdivisions are obtained :—

E100	Botany, General
E100.1	—	Bibliography
E100.2	—	Dictionaries
E100.3	—	Systematic Text-books
E100.4	—	Popular Text-books
E100.5	—	Philosophy and Theories
E100.6	—	Societies
E100.7	—	Periodicals
E100.10	—	History
E100.32	—	Archæology
E100.56	—	Exhibitions
E100.57	—	Museums
E100.59	—	Pictorial Side
E100.66	—	Methods of Teaching
E100.70	—	Methods of Study
E100.71	—	Schools
E100.89	—	Classification

Etc., etc.

INTRODUCTION.

Similarly, when applied to a subdivision of Botany, the same method is adopted of adding numbers from the Categorical Tables, as :—

E427	Orchids,	General
E427.1	—	Bibliography
E427.3	—	Text-books, Systematic
E427.4	—	— Popular
E427.6	—	Societies
E427.7	—	Periodicals
E427.10	—	History
E427.56	—	Exhibitions

Whatever subject or sub-division may be divided up in this way, the result is always the same, .1 is always Bibliography, .10 always History, and .89 always Classification, and when any number comes after a point, it is clearly a sub-divisional one, taken from the arbitrary Categorical Tables. A large number of the items in these Tables will not apply all round, and in the case of forms, standpoints and other categories affecting Biology, Churches, Languages, etc., it will be found that many names are introduced which will only apply to such subjects. For instance, in the case of a collection of books on the English or any other language, the subdivision would be effected by means of the Categorical Tables, as follows :—

M520	English Language, General.
M520.1	— Bibliography
M520.2	— Dictionaries (subjects, not words)
M520.10	— History
M520.873	— Abbreviations
M520.875	— Pronunciation
M520.877	— Grammar
M520.897	— Lexicons (Dictionaries), Words
M520.900	— Dialects
	Etc.

Other examples will be given when the application of the Classification is explained class by class, so that it is needless to multiply cases here. Enough has been described to make it clear how this separate table of categories can be applied to the subjects of the main classification.

12. Application of the System: General.—The fundamental idea of this scheme of Classification is that of assembling everything relating to a topic at one constant or unmistakeable place. As already explained, this is effected by providing a certain order of classes, in logical order, with divisions and subdivisions; means of intercalating new subjects; and a method of subdividing subjects into forms and other categories by means of a separate table of numbers.

All through this scheme an effort has been made to place each subject as near as possible to the science on which it is based. Where a subject assumes great complexity because of the number of sciences which enter into it, an endeavour has been made to place it in juxtaposition to the predominant science on which it is chiefly based. Agriculture is, therefore, put after Botany and Zoology; the mechanical side of the subject being considered subordinate. There are other cases of an apparent divorce between allied topics, but many of the most closely related subjects are connected by means of cross-references, so that a certain amount of inter-relationship is shown.

Practical use has been considered all through the scheme, and it has been sought to obtain this by dispensing with conventions, distinctions and groupings, which are arbitrary rather than scientific. Classes like Literature, Useful Arts, Fine Arts, Extractive Arts, Mechanic Arts, etc., are examples of arbitrary or standpoint groupings which have been avoided, and, as far as possible, unreal distinctions, such as those between Architecture and Building, Costume and Dress, Numismatics and Currency, have been ignored. The tendency in many classification schemes is to consider the archæology of a subject as a new science, and thus it has become a convention in many quarters that knowledge must be regulated by museum standards. It is this convention more than anything else which is responsible for the current belief that there can be no relationship between old coins and new; armour and the art of war, gems and mineralogy; harpsichords and music, and so on, ad infinitum. The collector has, by persistent work in special grooves, succeeded in establishing the idea that mere separation in time is sufficient to destroy any close relationship between identical things. It will be found that any kind of sentimental regard for conventional grouping is given but a small place in this scheme, not only because it is unscientific, but necessity makes it imperative in a classification, that only one place shall exist for one subject. With these remarks on ".5 theory," the consideration of some general applications of this particular scheme may be entered upon.

13. Composite Books or Subjects.—Books on more than one subject are to be placed at that first named on the title-page, unless it is ascertained that the predominant place is occupied by another subject. In many cases special numbers are provided for composite books on subjects like Electricity and Magnetism, Orkney and Shetland, and so forth, but it was not possible to find places for the many possible combinations of subjects.

Composite books should be marked in such a manner as to indicate clearly that they are on more than one subject. For example, a book entitled Heat and Sound might be marked C200+300, and one on Logic and Rhetoric A300+M170. The most convenient place for such composites would be at the end of the subject, and, of course, the catalogue would have to indicate the existence of the second or third subjects. It is not advisable to go beyond combinations of three in marking. Should a book treat of three or more subjects in the same class, it is best to place it at the general head; as, for example, a book on Light, Sound and Heat at Physics. Occasionally books are met with which, without being encyclopædic, nevertheless treat of three, four or more remotely related subjects. In such cases it is best to classify them according to the predominant subject matter.

14. Locality versus Subject.—This is one of the most difficult problems connected with classification, because it is just as easy and useful to give a subject its subject-number and subdivide by rational numbers, as to give it a place-number and divide by the subjects. The difficulty is more especially prominent in such subjects as local archæology, architecture,

INTRODUCTION.

ecclesiology, flora, fauna, etc., and the temptation to select locality in preference to real subject-matter is often irresistible. A History of York Minster may be put under Cathedrals, Architecture or York, and doubtless other heads in any classification, and the question which must decide its ultimate placing is "Where will it be most constantly useful?" The majority of persons, other than specialists, would say York, and undoubtedly the local attraction seems enormous in this particular case. Grant's Edinburgh Castle might be numbered B972V331 at "Fortifications," subdivision "Castles," where it would be lost to the person interested in Edinburgh and absolutely useless to the soldier. The majority of classifiers would doubtless number it V331.225; and it is difficult to understand how works on castles, abbeys, churches, streets, etc., can be appropriately or conveniently classed on their purely physical or art sides, when their whole scope and interest is historical, archæological and local in nine cases out of ten. This holds good in the case of nearly all local monuments, landmarks and buildings, and for that reason it is one of the rules of this classification scheme that local numbers should be given to the following subjects :—

Local Ecclesiastical Buildings, Abbeys, etc.

- Churches and Chapels
- Cathedrals
- Palaces
- Mansions
- Castles
- Streets
- Monuments (other than Statues)

This rule applies in every case, and includes architectural books, pure and simple, diocesan or other histories, and generally any aspect or phase of the subject. In several cases throughout this scheme, as at London and Paris, this local treatment has been adopted in the tables by assigning special numbers to local buildings, etc., of great renown.

In all other cases the subject number must be used with local or other qualifications as may be necessary, thus :—

The Flora of Surrey	E172U830
The Geology of Arran	D398V222
Freemasonry in Russia	L185So
Cathedrals of the World	J851
— of France	J851Ro

It will be seen that castles, cathedrals, etc., in general, are placed with the subject instead of at locality, and for this variation it is only necessary to point out that local interest evaporates in proportion to anything becoming universal, and that the most constantly useful place for general works on buildings will be at the subjects with which they are associated. This might not seem to apply to works like local floras and so forth, but, as a matter of fact, books on local botany, geology, zoology, etc., are really text-books for a whole science, and have no interest for merely local purposes. From these rules special local collections must, of course, be excepted, and in cases where it is necessary, the local number, in general must have a place, as well as the different kinds of engines, and for such books this general place has been provided. On the other hand, the best constant place for an electric lift would probably be B120, as in this case the motive power is less important than the purpose of the mechanism.

18. Architecture.—Books on buildings for specific purposes, should be placed at the subject, with the distinguishing categorical number .185. This rule applies to every kind of special building, and it will be seen that the numbers B300 to B490 are reserved for general works on Architecture, on construction, details, history, etc.

19. Music.—In cases of very large collections, it is advisable to group and subdivide instruments and forms, by combinations of numbers, as in the Graphic Arts, keeping in mind the question of what constitutes the most constant place. For practical purposes it is probably most useful to number by instrument and divide by form. At C475 Gavottes, a place is provided for the literature and general works on the Gavotte as a dance, but after this need is fulfilled, it seems best to put music in this form at the instruments for which it is written :—

C612 + 475	Gavottes for Violoncello	not C475 + 612
C626 + 475	—	Harp not C475 + 626
C647 + 475	—	Pianoforte not C475 + 647
C721 + 475	—	American Organ not C475 + 721
C767 + 475	—	Military Band not C475 + 767

There is a practical convenience about this course, which arises from the fact that arrangement by instrument is the almost universal practice of music publishers. In arranging duets, always use the number of the solo instrument, as C687 + 647 "Duets for Flute and Pianoforte," which at once distinguishes the character of the piece. Combinations of more than two instruments must be arranged at C770, etc., qualified by form numbers.

20. Poetry and Music.—In cases of collections of songs, hymns, etc., which are provided with the words and tunes only, without accompaniments or other specially musical additions, number at N1 (Poetry). In all other cases, however full the poetical text may be, if accompaniments are given, number as Music, viz. :—

N116V0 Chambers. Songs of Scotland prior to Burns. (Tunes only)

N116U3 Kidson. Traditional Tunes. (Tunes only)

But

C591V0 Graham. Songs of Scotland . . . with pianoforte accompaniments.

Operas, oratorios, etc., must be treated as Music, and numbered accordingly. References or entries relating to poets and librettists must be furnished in catalogues.

Monographs and books on Rocks, Minerals, Chemical Compounds, etc., not represented in the index should receive the number of the nearest group to which they belong.

21. E-I Biological Science.—Special aspects of plant and animal life can be shown either by combining the numbers of general Biology with the subject number, i.e., F237E026 Respiration of the Cuttle Fish or by using the categorical numbers—F237.390; or E392.374 Evolution of the Onion, which is usually the best way. In most cases the additional numbers of the Categorical Tables will be found sufficient, but in cases where it fails, recourse must be had to combination. The extraordinary number of processes, functions, organs, etc., connected with Biology—vegetable, animal and human—makes such a plan necessary, as it is impossible, without greatly enlarging the General and Categorical Tables, to provide separate places for everything. Places have been found for all the chief departments of human biology, as distinguished from Comparative Biology, but in cases where it is necessary, combination of numbers must be resorted to for minute classification.

INTRODUCTION.

22. J-K Philosophy and Religion.—The distinction between general or Comparative Theology—J400, etc., and K320 Christian Theology—must be carefully noted, otherwise many mistakes will be made in confusing the general idea of a God, or supreme power, Sin, Punishments, etc., with the Christian idea. Here again, provision has been made in the Categorical Tables for subdividing, say, Buddhistic Eschatology from Christian Eschatology. The instructions in the tables for keeping general works on Church Doctrine—J600, and Church Government J800—separate from works on the doctrine, government or institutions of single churches or beliefs, must also be carefully noted. The difference is best shown by examples:—

J 630 •	Hones.	Liturgies of the World (General)
K750.685	—	Liturgy of the Church of England (National Ch.)
K740.685	—	Prayer-book of the Unitarian Chapel at Highgate
U916 •		(Local)

The effect of this is to place all general liturgies, hymnals, etc., at the general heading, while keeping the prayer-books, etc., of special churches with the other matter relating to such churches, which, in a vast majority of cases, would be the most constant place. It is possible, by using these church plus categorical numbers, to disentangle the vast literature of religion, which in some libraries is hidden away under one number! The most minute distinctions can be shown without the use of an immense symbol, and due respect is paid to the general and special aspects of every department of Ecclesiastical Doctrine and Government.

23. M Language, Literature, Bibliography.—Each separate language must be subdivided as regards forms and subjects—grammar, dictionaries, pronunciation, etc.—by the numbers from the Categorical Tables. Dictionaries of more than one language are to be arranged under the language which is not that of the nationality of the library, i.e., Greek-English, French-English, English-German dictionaries would, in an English library, be numbered at M457.897 Greek, M435.897 French, and M560.897 German respectively. In a German library the same local treatment would occur. In the case of German-Latin, French-Greek, Italian-Russian and other combinations, arrange in an English library under the name of the language which comes first in alphabetical order.

Languages and Literatures go together. In many cases separate numbers are provided. In others—comparatively unliterary languages—one number is given at which both language and literary history can be assembled. They can, however, be divided by means of the Categorical Tables, thus :—

M227.867 Numidian Language

M227.915 — Literary History

In form classes—poetry, fiction, drama, music, etc., Form is to be regarded as paramount to Subject.

24. O-W History and Geography.—This heading includes civil, church, military, and social history, and excepting in the case of individual churches, all national ecclesiastical histories are assembled at the country to which they relate :—

R000.16 Ecclesiastical History of France

Historical events which are the subject of separate books are, unless a special place is provided, to be placed in the reign of the monarch who was in power when they occurred, e.g. :—

V551 Gunpowder Plot

These regnal numbers thus become the place of assembly for all the royal biographies, including the non-reigning members of the royal families, state papers (general), histories and special monographs on any event of an historical nature which occurred during the reign. It is sometimes difficult to find exact places for some events, but generally, if they are spread over two or more reigns, it is best to place them in the reign when they commenced. To secure minute subdivisions in a reign the Chronological Tables can be used—V551fz. Battles are to be numbered in the countries or towns where they were fought, unless general battles, which go in O006, or battles of a national kind which cannot be closely localised, like “ Battles of Belgium ”—T200.20.

25. Special Local Collections, when very large, can, if necessary, be removed from the main classification and re-arranged at the unappropriated class letter Y, under such special divisions as may be necessary, or those printed in Section 47.

26. X Biography (including Correspondence and Criticism).—At this class are collected all general biographies and collective biographies of particular groups. Also the biographies of individuals, in an alphabet of biographical names, to be fixed by the special Combination Tables at X300, etc. When it is thought better to distribute the individual biography at subjects, a very inconvenient and frequently impossible task, the subject of the biography must get the topic number from the Classification Tables, plus the categorical number for Biography :—

C400.41 Thayer's Beethoven

A676.41 Thornbury's Life of J. M. W. Turner

The main difficulty in the way of distributing Biography throughout subjects is the impossibility, in numerous cases, of determining in which class a man is most known. Buckingham, who is just the type of man who cannot be classified, and there are thousands like him. Apart from this, there are practical difficulties in the way so far as libraries are concerned, and unless for special purposes, biography should invariably be kept by itself. In collective Biography, topic is to be considered paramount to race, nationality or sex.

“ Was chemist, fiddler, statesman and buffoon,”

INTRODUCTION.

27. Criticism, Ana, Biographical Collaterals.—Should criticism and commentary go with the life of the person who provokes it, or with the works or deeds which he accomplishes? This is a difficult problem, as it is hard to determine, for example, what is the most constant place for criticism on Shakespeare and his works, in whole or in part. For convenience sake it is thought best in this classification to gather all general criticism and commentary at the Biographical number, but to place commentaries and elucidations of single works with such works.

Examples :—

X7860	Gervinus.	Commentaries on Shakespeare
X7860	Hudson.	Shakespeare, his life, art and character
N250.9I9	Robertson.	Titus Andronicus
7860	•
X7860	Martin.	Shakespeare's Female characters
•X7860	Ellacombe.	Plant Lore of Shakespeare
X7860	Hazlitt.	Characters of Shakespeare's Plays
N250.9I9
7860	Halliwell-Phillipps.	Memoranda on Love's labour lost

The effect of such an arrangement is to assemble every general or personal biography, study, criticism, or the ana of a celebrated individual at one well-defined and easily found place. On the other hand, studies of great works, like the numerous expositions of Dante's Inferno, would naturally go with the poem, while the biographies of Dante would take the biographical number.

28. Biographical Numbers for subdividing and maintaining Alphabetical order (X300, etc.). This table is to be used exclusively for numbering authors in any subject where necessary, so as to distinguish one from another. In large libraries this will be found necessary in many cases, both under subjects in catalogues and elsewhere. But in individual biography, fiction, poetry and other classes it will be found useful in providing a fixed place for most alphabetical combinations, and assembling similar names at one place. With regard to the distinction of authors under subject-heading, the following examples will show clearly how the numbers are applied. As indicated by the table itself, numbers are substituted for every arrangement of two or three letters of the alphabet, and by combining these when necessary any alphabetical combination can be numerically expressed.

E100.3 Botany : Systematic Text-books.

Biog. No.

3262	Baillon.	Natural history of Plants.
3306	Bentley.	Botany
3408	Bower.	Practical Instruction in Botany

Written on cards and books $\frac{E100.3}{3262}$ $\frac{E100.3}{3408}$ etc.

For registering purposes Bower would be numbered $\frac{E100.3}{3408}$ and his book would be thus distinguished from all other books under the same head.

SUBJECT CLASSIFICATION.

As the subject of author and other numbers is discussed in full later on, it is not necessary to allude further to it here. See also at X945.

29. Notation—the Numbering of Books.—In most libraries which use exact classification, it is customary to apply numbers to books so as to indicate their class, authorship, and sometimes title, edition and copy. Numerous plans for effecting this numbering so as to differentiate one book from another have been devised, and the principal schemes are here briefly outlined.

30. Author Numbers and Symbols.—Perhaps the most sensible and straightforward way to distinguish books from each other is to rely entirely upon the class number or symbol, plus the lettering on the books themselves. For whatever purpose required it seems much simpler to arrange books on shelves, in charging systems, in catalogues, or anywhere else, in a plain and easy sequence of author's names in alphabetical order, under each division or subdivision of a class or subject, thus :—

F000.3 Zoology : Systematic Text-books.

Claus (C.) Elementary text-book on zoology

Edwards (H. M.) Manual of zoology

Hertwig (R.) General principles of zoology

Nicholson (H. A.) Manual of zoology

Parker (T. J.) and W. A. Haswell. Text-book of zoology

Sedgwick (A.) Student's text-book of zoology

Practically speaking, it is just as easy for anyone to find F000.3 Edwards, as to find $\frac{F000.3}{4077}$, F000.3E31 or any other symbol, and as regards library records, where cards, books, or other registers bear full particulars, it seems a refinement of elaboration to add to a book's own description of itself.

31. Failing acceptance of this obvious and commonsense method, the second in ease of application is probably the use of the accession numbers, which most libraries apply to books in addition to any class or other number. These accession numbers are generally arranged in a progressive series, so that no two books can possibly be numbered alike. When such numbers are used they can be applied in two ways :—

F000.3 Zoology : Systematic Text-books.

5964 Claus (C.) Elementary text-book of zoology

I3764 Hertwig (R.) General principles of zoology or in dictionary catalogues—

Zoology, Systematic Text-books.

F5964 Claus (C.) Elementary text-book of zoology

F13764 Hertwig (R.) General principles of zoology

The charging number would thus become, in the case of Claus. F000.3 or simply F5964.

32. A third method is that already mentioned in Section 26 of this

INTRODUCTION.

Introduction, being the addition of the Biographical numbers (X300-945) to the class numbers, thus :—

F000.3 Zoology : Systematic Text-books.

F000.3 3630	Claus (C.) Elementary text-book
F000.3 4866	Hertwig (R.) General principles
F000.3 6671	Nicholson (H. A.) Manual

33. A fourth plan is to use the symbols devised by the late Mr. C. A. Cutter, which have been published in tabular form, and are entitled the "Cutter Author Marks." In this table all the most ordinary names, to the number of over 12,000 are numbered letter by letter like the following examples :—

Abbott—Ab2	Doyle—D77
Acland—Ac6	Gibson—G36
Alexander—A37	Hamerton—H19
Augsburg—A92	Tomkins—T59
Beard—B34	Warren—W24

Of course, as this table is selective, there are thousands of alphabetical combinations at which it can only roughly hint ; but it serves a useful purpose in approximately placing authors' names. As the Biographical Table (X300, etc.), forming part of this Classification, gives nearly half a million places for combinations of two numbers (six figures) only, it will be realised that the Cutter marks are necessarily restricted. In practical application the Cutter marks are used as follows :—

F000.3A37 F000.3T59 F000.3W24, etc.

34. A fifth method, restricted to 100 places, has been devised by Mr. Merrill, of the Newberry Library, Chicago, and as it may be found useful for subdivisions in small libraries, it is here given in full with the author's kind permission :—

MERRILL ALPHABETING NUMBERS.

01 A	16 Chan	31 Forr	46 K

68 Pfi	78 Sanch	88 To	98 Wit

70 Po	80 Schwar	90 U

These numbers would be used thus :—

Fooo.3
25 Edwards (H. M.) Manual of Zoology

35. A sixth method consists in the use of the first three letters of the author's name, added to the class number, and in most cases this is a sufficient mark for all ordinary purposes, though it is sometimes necessary to extend the number of letters used. In actual practice it appears thus :—

Fooo.3 Cla. Claus (C.)
Fooo.3 Edw. Edwards
Fooo.3 Par. Parker

Two methods of applying these letters are described in the Library World, Vol. 3, 1900-1, by Messrs. Jast and Anderson respectively.

36. Title or Book Numbers.—It is not often, save in Fiction, Poetry and other very large alphabetical classes, that titles require to be distinguished, but even for this various methods have been devised. A plan sometimes adopted is to use the ordinary alphabetical name tables, Cutter, etc., and mark the first word of a title; in other cases the separate works are simply numbered 1, 2, 3, etc., in any order. Thus if a library has a set of Mrs. Oliphant's novels, one gets the following collection of first words :—

Plain No.	Composite No.		Cutter Mark.	Brown Mark.
1	3O16	Oliphant, Madam	M23	633
2	3O19	— Madonna	M23	633
3	3O2	— Maelstrom	M24	633
4	3O31	— Magdalen	M24	6330
5	3O6	— Margaret	M38	6335
6	3O10	— Marion	M38	6335
7	3O17	— Marriage	M41	6335
8	3O18	— Mary	M43	6335
9	3O32	— Massacre	M45	6336

The translation of the "Composite Number" above is that Oliphant is the third author in letter O, and the numbers following indicate the works in order of accession. It is a method of distinguishing authors and books, and requires special records of authors' names and their works, otherwise numbers may easily be repeated. Neither of the numerical systems are of use save for the libraries in which they are employed, because the numbers mean nothing, and are mere arbitrary symbols which are not generally standardised. The Cutter and Brown marks are taken from standard tables, and have, therefore, universal application. But both are clumsy, and, as has already been stated, not absolutely necessary.

INTRODUCTION.

37.. Copy Numbers.—Sometimes a number of copies of the same work are kept, and when this is so, they may be distinguished by having a number coming after a characteristic mark, as $\frac{6754}{3665-1}$ $\frac{6754}{3665-2}$. In numerical arrangements there is no need for any such marking.

38. Chronological Arrangement.—In many scientific libraries it is deemed advisable to adopt a chronological arrangement on the shelves and even in catalogues, in order to assemble the latest works on a subject at one place. There is a certain amount of convenience in this, and several plans have been devised for marking books so as to indicate what order is intended. The simplest scheme, that of Mr. W. S. Biscoe,* is liable to be mistaken for Cutter author marks, as the symbols are identical, but where Cutter's tables are not used, they will be found clear enough.

H—1810 to 1819	Q—1900 to 1909
I—1820 to 1829	R—1910 to 1919

Undated books are marked with the letter of the supposed date—M indicating a book published any time between 1860 and 1869. All other books are numbered with the letter and the year number, ignoring centuries, as in this example in the Dewey Notation :—

580.2Q05 Balfour. Manual of Botany. 1905
614.132P99 Return on Infant Mortality. 1899

40. Extended Date Table.—To avoid the use of both letters and figures in expressing dates, and also to shorten the symbols, the following table, dealing with the period from the invention of printing, has been prepared. For marking MSS. or for any other purposes, a similar table can be constructed and distinguished from this one by the use of capital letters. These symbols can be used for closely distinguishing events in the regnal years of monarchs.

By using this table the marks would appear thus :—

and would not conflict with the symbols of this or any other system. A one-letter table can be devised by using varieties of type, as with the hall-marking of gold and silver plate, but of course, it would be unsuitable for manuscript purposes.

41. Other Marks and Indications. Juvenile Books.—When thought necessary to indicate in a mixed alphabetical catalogue, or for any other purposes, when a book is suitable for children, a “j,” = juvenile or “c,” = children, can be placed in front of the class letter, thus —

and if further thought necessary to distinguish books specially suitable for girls or boys, “g,” = girls, or “b,” = boys, can be substituted, reserving the “j” or “c” for works of general interest. But in these days of separate catalogues and libraries, this is a refinement which seems hardly necessary.

42. Controversial Subjects.—In some libraries, and in catalogues of various kinds, it may be necessary to indicate the books written for and against a particular view or subject. The pros and cons of Vegetarianism, Slavery, Roman Catholicism, Temperance, and hundreds of other subjects may require indication in large libraries, and a simple way of doing so, if the books cannot be actually separated on shelves or in catalogues, is to mark the Class number with a sign which shall clearly distinguish the standpoint. An asterisk, for example, could indicate the pro, or favourable view, and a double asterisk the anti or unfavourable view, thus :—

 1714 Johnston. Is smoking injurious ?

 *1714 Russell. The smoking habit or by using the letters “f,” = for and “a,” = against—a1714 Johnston. Is smoking injurious ?

 f1714 Russell. The smoking habit

In cases where catalogues are properly annotated, no marking will be necessary.

43. Book Sizes.—The question of indicating book sizes is one for cataloguing chiefly, and does not enter into classification save as regards the physical placing of books. It does not affect the class or subject numbers, and it is now the general practice to make size notation a part of the catalogue entry. In libraries strictly classified it is best to separate the folio and quarto books from the octavos, and to store them in specially made cases. In some recent libraries, worked on the open-access system, special shelves are reserved for "oversize" and "undersize" books. The average size being a 9 inch octavo. Some space is saved by this method, and it prevents small books from being pushed behind. Dummies or blanks can be inserted in the spaces which should be occupied by folios and quartos, bearing a reference to the place where they can be found.* In the catalogue the entry will show if a book is f° or 4°, or F or Q, by printing these symbols as part of the entry.

44. The Index.—The Index registers every subject word which occurs in the Classification Tables and many synonyms. It also directs to some unnumbered subjects, such as historical events in the reigns of different monarchs, and other matters which are included in divisional or main headings. It has not been thought necessary to repeat under national heads the various sciences, arts and historical categories which could be assembled there, nor at subject-words has it been deemed proper to show the national divisions of such topics. Biographical names are also omitted, and also all references to unnumbered geographical or historical areas. The Index number is the one to be applied in the first instance, when a subject is definitely ascertained, and the subdivisions must be taken from the Categorical Tables. From this rule there can be no departure by strict users of the classification. On the other hand, the specialist or standpoint classifier who prefers to assemble all his material at a particular place, can do so by using the abstract place, and qualifying it by means of the Categorical Table or numbers from the Classification itself. Thus, a bibliographer can use the mark M760 and then proceed to subdivide it thus :—

M760.0	Bibliography, General
M760.1	— of Bibliography
M760.2	— of Encyclopædias
M760.10	— History
M760.40	— Maps
M760.92	— Arithmetic
M760.574	— Mountaineering
M760.963	— Proverbs

etc., etc.

When he has exhausted these tables he can proceed to the National, Linguistic or Biographical Tables, as follows :—

M760T311	Bibliography of Brussels
M760M590	— Gipsy Language
M760X3132	— Hans Christian Andersen

45. Aids to Classification.—It is absolutely necessary in applying this Scheme of Classification, either on a large or small scale, to make use of good reference books. It is difficult, sometimes, to say where a place is, what a name means, when an event occurred, or who a person was, and for that reason the following books should always be accessible.

1. A good Atlas, with a full reference index.

INTRODUCTION.

47. Table for arranging a County or other Area.—This table shows how a large number of items can be arranged in a local collection, and how provision should be made for towns and districts not provided for in the main tables. In order to obtain full representation of every area, it is necessary to turn up the county or department or whatever it may be and make out a complete list of parishes, independent towns or other administrative areas, and on that basis number the whole series. Of course, this is only necessary in the case of large collections of books and prints, and will not be necessary in one out of a hundred libraries, save as regards the collection relating to the town or district in which the library is placed. Two methods are shown of marking subjects, and where the numbers are taken from the Classification Tables, the arrangement may be assumed to have general application, but in the case of the table using the letter Y, the arrangement is intended for a large purely local collection. The area chosen is that of Edinburghshire, and it is clearly shown how the Categorical Table meets all ordinary needs. It is assumed, for the purpose of the Y arrangement, that everything is collected at Edinburghshire. In the other arrangement only the purely local matter, as defined at No. 14 of the Introduction, is included.

In cases where the number of areas exceeds 100, it will be necessary to use a three instead of a two figure addition—V241000, etc., Y000, Y001, etc. Some may prefer to use an alphabetical order of place names instead of a geographical one, in which case Edinburghshire would arrange thus, Dalkeith coming out of its order :—

V330	Edinburghshire	Dalkeith. See V334
V3300	Borthwick	V3309 Duddingston

V3320	Liberton	V3341 Newton
V3321	Mid Calder	V3342 Penicuik

In a great number of cases, particularly in the county divisions of the United Kingdom, the adoption of alphabetical order would lead to the shortening of symbols, but, of course, adjoining parishes would be separated.

48. Hints on Practical Application.—Experience in the use of this system, extending over six years, has resulted in certain methods of applying it to the shelves being worth mention. 1. Apply the class letters and numbers to the backs of the books by means of gilt-lettering in the ordinary way, and have type of a plain, clear, and fairly large pattern. For fiction use the first three letters of the author's name, about two inches from the foot, e.g., SCO. For individual biography, use the first three letters of the name of the biographee, with the class letter in front, e.g., X SCO. Poets and dramatists can be shown in similar fashion, with the class-mark in front. This will serve to distinguish the alphabetical classes. The alphabetical numbers table given on p. 219 is not recommended for public use. Generally speaking the book's own title is sufficient for all purposes of arrangement and finding. For main class guides, have framed cards bearing the chief divisions, projecting from the bookcase cornices at right angles, or displayed over the front cornice at the middle of the bookcases. For topic guiding, it is best to use the front edges of the shelves as display surfaces for a series of labels either pinned in place or secured behind xylonite label-holders, which are specially bent to fit snugly into the lower angles of the shelf edges. These are made by various dealers in library appliances, as also are other guiding devices. Tags of every kind should be discarded, unless for temporary purposes. All kinds have been tried, in conjunction with every conceivable adhesive, and the results are not as a rule satisfactory. Sometimes various kinds of enamel and paints have been used, with which to write the class letters and numbers on the backs of the books, but their use presupposes the existence of a neat and competent writer on the staff. The appearance of tags and white paint lettering is not very pleasing, and their permanency is doubtful.

Shelf registers should be kept in order of the classification, either on cards or specially ruled sheets. The latter is the more economical, and enables, in most cases, the whole of the books on small topics to be entered on one sheet which can be rapidly scanned with one sweep of the eye. Additions are easily made, and in libraries they can be used for stock-taking purposes. For detailed information on various methods of guiding a classified library see Manual of Library Economy, Library Classification and Cataloguing, and the files of the Library World and other professional magazines.

In using this Table for marking books in small libraries, the two-letter combinations will be found ample for all practical purposes. A series of Authors in Fiction or Poetry, or of Subjects in Biography, would be marked and distinguished as shown on the left of the names below :—

352	Cable	352337	363	Clark	363317
	Cade	352382		Clemens	363416
356	Cervantes	356759	366	Collins	366567
	Cettinge	356824		Cosway	366801
359	Chambers	359312	369	Crawford	369322
	Chubb	359832		Crimp	369520

If greater subdivision is required, this can be obtained by combining the two-letter numbers, as shown on the right of the names above. To mark books in large libraries the three-letter combinations should be used, as they provide for most ordinary biographical names. In cases where no provision is made for certain alphabetical combinations of three letters, the numbers are to be treated as decimals, so that, as a rule, ten or more new numbers can be inserted, if necessary, between each of the existing numbers. The examples following show this clearly, the numbers on the left being the ordinary symbols for three-letter combinations, while those on the right show how additional combinations and their numbers can be inserted :—

	Cable	3520	3600	Ciba
	Caccini	35200		Cicci	36000
3521	Cade		3630	Clark
3563	Cervantes		3633	Clemens
3564	Cessio		3635	Clibborn
	Cettinge	35640	3637	Clown
3590	Chambers		3638	Cluse
3592	Cheesewright		3662	Collins
3593	Chichane		3663	Comerford
	Chladni	35933	3664	Connie
3594	Chore		3665	Coote
3596	Chubb			Cope	36650
	Chyle	35963		Coquelin	36651
360	Ciaca

CLASSIFICATION.

The main advantages of this scheme are that it gives a constant place for any kind of alphabetical combination ; it insures perfect numerical and alphabetical order : in many cases the numerical symbol is less lengthy than the full names, and it provides for the needs of any kind of library. The disadvantages of all previous schemes have been their merely partial character, and the impossibility of determining exactly how a new name was to be marked. This fixed place Table will doubtless satisfy those who prefer that alphabetical combinations should be translated into a numerical progression, but at best, as already stated in the Introduction, the method is a makeshift one, which, in a great many cases, is unnecessary.
